INTRODUCTION.

---

The plan of this work, we believe, is entirely new. Its contents is the result of school-room labor, growing out of a desire to make the History of our country more attractive and interesting—a favorite study with the vast army of American students.

The object of this little book is to aid the pupil in studying and especially in remembering the most important events in the United States history. The great difficulty is to remember history after having studied it, but in this method the events are fixed and retained in the mind by means of verses, of which the first letter of each word is the first letter of the name or event to be remembered It will be clearly seen and easily understood that if one has the first letter of a name he can readily recall that name—and having the verses he has a key to the history.

This is not intended as a text book, but is to be used with any U. S. history as topics of the same.

Any history may be used for reference, but in its preparation Ridpath's has been the main guide. Great information, however, has been derived from the Barnes, Eclectic, Colonial, Venable, Wilson, Quackenbos, Swinton, and other histories.

Each verse is to be used as a group of topics. The teacher in assigning lessons may use his own judgment as to the number of topics to be given for a recitation.

Hoping that these topics will meet with the success that those met which were sent out in manuscript form, we venture to place them before the Teaching Public; and if the verses contain disconnected ideas, and if all are not constructed strictly according to the laws of prosody, let the critic write one himself before passing a final decision.

Lists of questions are also given that the topics may be more complete. The pupil in searching for the answers, and comparing different authors, will learn to draw his own conclusions and think for himself.

With these introductory remarks, we cheerfully inscribe to our pupils and fellow teachers the "Helps in History."

HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES.

Outlines and Mnemonics.

THE Western Continent was probably first seen and partly explored by the Icelanders and Norwegians who gave it the name of Vinland. They visited the country several times, but never made any permanent settlements. Their discoveries resulted in nothing whatever. "The world was neither wiser nor better." The place was even forgotten by the Icelanders themselves. The curtain that had been lifted for a short period was lowered from the blue dome to the sea, and the New World again lay hidden from the white man. It was about five centuries before Europe made known to the world the existence of a new continent. No one then ever dreamed of the tragic scenes across the waters, and that amid those scenes would spring up this, the mightiest nation the world has ever known.

About the close of the thirteenth century, Marco Polo, the Venetian traveler, and others had journeyed East and returned with wonderful accounts of the riches of Cathay and the Islands of Cipango, then called the East Indies, but now known to be China and Japan. The great problem of the fifteenth century was to find a near route to India.

Toscannelli had suggested the idea of the rotundity of the earth, Sir John Mandeville confirmed it in the first English book ever written (A. D. 1356), and Columbus resolved to prove it by sailing westward and arriving at the East Indies. He sailed. The result was that in a short time the powers of Europe were sending out fleets to explore an unknown land.

Divisions of History.

According to "A Catechism of the History of the United States," history is divided into Ancient and Modern; which is also divided into Civil, Sacred, and Profane (Verse—All modern civilization stands preeminent):

Ancient History is an account of all events that took place from the creation of the world to the birth of Christ;

Modern History embraces an account of all events from the birth of Christ until the present time;

Civil History is an account of the rise, continuance, and fall of empires, kingdoms, and states;

Sacred History is that which is contained in the Sacred Scriptures;

Profane History is properly the history of fabulous gods, and heroes of antiquity;

Ancient History is distinguished for the rise and fall of the four great empires: Assyria, Persia, Greece, and Rome (Verse.—Assyria's powerful government relaxed);

Modern History is distinguished for the invention of gunpowder, the art of printing, and discovery of America.

The history of our country is divided into five Periods. which are given by Ridpath as follows:

First. ABORIGINAL PERIOD; from remote antiquity to the coming of the white man, A. D. 986.

Second. VOYAGE AND DISCOVERY; 986—1607.

Third. COLONIAL PERIOD; 1607—1775.

Fourth. REVOLUTION AND CONFEDERATION; 1775—1789.

Fifth. NATIONAL PERIOD; 1789 to the present.

Verse.—A very choice republican nation.

10. What idea did Toscanelli advance?
11. Who confirmed it? Who resolved to prove it?
12. What was the exciting problem of the 15th century?
13. Who was Marco Polo? Vasco De Gama?
14. Who were the Mound Builders? What is known concerning them?
15. Where are the Mounds found, and what do they contain?
16. How did men first reach America?
17. Sketch the main physical features of the U. S.
18. How did the natives of North America come to receive the name Indian?
19. Sketch the appearance, customs, and tribal divisions of the Indians.
20. Give periods of U. S. history. Verse.

Period of Voyage and Discovery.

986—1697

Below are given the verses and the voyagers and discoverers of the four nations, Spain, England, France and Holland. It will be observed that each verse is begun with the name of the nation to which the discoverers belong. This will enable the pupil to easily determine the nation under which each one sailed—obviating the great difficulty of remembering whether a certain one is a Spanish, English, French, or Dutch explorer.

SPANISH DISCOVERERS AND EXPLORERS.

“Can you make an egg stand on end?”

“The Fountain of Immortal Youth.”

“The first requiems that were ever heard on the waters of the Mississippi.”

Columbus,	1492.	Cortez,	1519.
Amerigo Vespucci,	1499.	Ayllon,	1525.
Leon (Ponce De),	1512.	Narvaez, .	1528.
Balboa,	1513.	De Soto,	1539.
Magellan,	1519.	Melendez,	1565.

Spain chose a leader, bearing moral character and noble, determined motives.*

*The student will notice that the first letter of each word in order is the initial letter of the names chronologically arranged.

Notes.—Columbus married Donna Felipa, daughter of a famous navigator in the Portuguese service. She was a great help to him, aiding him in his plans. It has lately been discovered that his remains were last interred at St. Domingo, Hayti, instead of Havana, Cuba, as is generally given by historians.

Amerigo Vespucci was born in Florence, Italy, in 1451; died in Seville, Spain, in 1512.

ENGLISH DISCOVERERS AND EXPLORERS.

"Prima Vista."

Cabot	{ John,	1497.	Gilbert, (Gosnold 1602)	1583.
	{ Sebastian,	1498.	Raleigh,	1584.

TO THE PUPIL. Constantly use your note book and slate. "Once writing a topic is worth twice reciting it." Repeat and re-write time and again that which you find most difficult to remember. As you study a verse, place it on your slate and pointing to the first letter of each word, name the events and the dates. Erase and re-write until the topics are thoroughly memorized. Write the events on the slate or tablet and glancing at the first letter of the event, repeat the verse. Continue either, or both of these, until you can go to the blackboard, at your teacher's bidding, and write down the topics and the verse without any hesitation whatever. The secret of success in remembering dates depends entirely upon their repetition in connection with the verses. Bear in mind the necessity of your constant use of the pen and pencil in all your work. Write down every thing of interest that you can find in different histories and bring them to the recitation. Try to know something of each topic, and strive to be able to tell something about it in your own language. If you cannot express your thoughts nicely, keep trying. Cultivate originality of thought. Your greatest aim should be to think for yourself.

"Think for thyself—one good idea,
But known to be thine own,
Is better than a thousand gleaned
From fields by others sown."

Make lists, from time to time, of the most noted men of our country, and, if possible, procure biographical sketches of them, and copy the same into your note book. Collect all the funny anecdotes that you can find bearing on the lesson. You can find a number of such in Quackenbos' Primary History of the United States. If you have not a Ridpath's History in school, secure one, as the topics are taken mostly from that history. Remember that our country's advancement depends far more on the conquests of peace than upon the results of war. "We ought to know more of men and their good deeds." With the Revolution, begin the study of men and their actions. Do not be in too much of a hurry. Get well what you go over. Work all the time for the purpose of knowing more of our country's history.

CLOSE OF THE WAR.

1865.

“Men, we have fought through this war together, I have done the best I could for you.”—Lee.

Richmond burned.

Note. Use the word Herring for pointing off the above verse—following the directions for pointing off the verses for the other wars.

Cotton Centennial Exposition at New Orleans, Dec.
  - 85 Washington Monument Unveiled, Feb., 21.
- GARFIELD and ARTHUR are ever greatly revered.

---

 In the outlines for the colonies and the presidential terms, only the most important events are included in the verses. This is thought best, since the class should not try to commit a great number of dates. It would be better to commit the dates of the presidential terms rather than try to remember all the dates of the verses. Let the pupil, in giving a verse and the events, give the date of that President's term of office.

CLEVELAND'S ADMINISTRATION.

HOW TO REVIEW HISTORY:

1. Have a verse placed on the blackboard, and pointing to the first letter of each word in the verse, have the pupils give the names, events, and dates.
2. Call on each pupil in turn to name some person distinguished in the history of our country, and to state something that he did.
3. To name some important battle, and tell something about it.
4. To name some settlement and tell who made it.
5. Let one pupil describe some noted person, and allow the class to guess the name.
6. Describe some important event, and let the class tell when and where it happened.
7. Let one pupil think of some noted historical person, place or event, and the others ask questions to ascertain what is thought of by that pupil.
8. Let one pupil think of some historical character, and then mention to the class one thing after another until some one is able to guess the name. The following is an example: The teacher or pupil remarks "I am thinking of a general who was called, "Rough and Ready," or "I am thinking of a battle that was fought on Sunday," or "I am thinking of a settlement where slavery was first introduced." These, the other pupils are to answer. This is known as "The Thinking Exercise," Try it.
